Assessment Bulletin

This bulletin is published to announce the publication of data on modes of assessment. Further bulletins will be circulated over the year covering a variety of topics specific to this assessment period.

Modes of assessment, 2021-22

A collated list of the modes of assessment for undergraduate and postgraduate (taught) courses for the Easter term 2022 has now been published and can be found here. This shows, by examination and paper each mode of assessment as confirmed by the department.

You are asked to share this information with students, directing them to the department in case of any queries in the first instance.

Information on modes of assessment for the Michaelmas term 2021 and Lent term 2022 will be added in the coming days.

Any changes or additions to the content after publication will be clearly marked on the files and emails will be sent to confirm a change has been made.

Action required:

Departments, Faculties and Colleges - Alert students and other interested colleagues to the publication of the data.

In case of query on the data from a student – direct them to the department in the first instance.

In case of query on the data from a department – contact Rachel Deans (Rachel.deans@admin.cam.ac.uk) or Jenny Green (jenny.green@admin.cam.ac.uk).
